INTRODUCTION

The Laboratory for Experimental Anthropology at the Catholic University of Lille in collaboration with the Lille Economics and Management (LEM-UMR 9221) and the Center for Economic Analysis of Risk at Georgia State University, will host the 2nd Behavioral and Experimental Public Choice Workshop on May 28—29, 2018 in Lille, France.

Following the success of our previous workshop, we are delighted to welcome you to the second edition of the Behavioral and Experimental Public Choice Workshop. The objective of the workshop is to gather researchers across disciplines in order to speculate together on how behavioral insights and the experimental method could improve our understanding of traditional public choice phenomena (bargaining, bureaucracies, elections, legislatures), and in particular of more behavioral topics, such as the role of culture, emotions and risk preferences in collective decision-making.
