Instructions and questionnaires:
Questions about You and Your Household
Section 1: General Household Information

The following questions are about your household.
First, we need to explain what we mean by certain words.

- Household (also called HH) is a group of people who live in the same home and share finances. Sharing finances means that money (some, not necessarily all) is shared among these people. Your household may include your spouse or partner, children or parents who live with you, brothers, sisters and other relatives, or roommates who combine their money to pay for the household’s expenses (other than just rent and utilities).

  [Enumerator should pause and ask if they have any questions. Re-enforce that only roommates/housemates who contribute to the non-rent finances count as part of their household. All children qualify as members of a household, regardless of age or contribution.]

- Sole Head of household means a person who makes all important decisions in the household. This means all financial and non-financial decisions.

- Shared Head of household means a person who shares in making the important decisions in the household. This includes all financial and non-financial decisions.

In the first column, we will record each person in your household.

- Start with yourself.
- For every other person in the household, list them as “Adult 1,” “Adult 2,” “Child 1,” etc.
- Include babies and children.
- Include people who live in your household that may be away temporarily. This might include a person who is away in school, working, or in military service.

Then, for each person, answer each question. We will record the answers as you go. If you are not sure about the answer, provide your best guess.

For some questions, you will need to look at a list of possible answers and choose the best one. This list of answers can be found on the page immediately after the chart. When you identify the right answer, we will write the number in the box.

In order to protect your anonymity, these forms containing your personal information will be stored and kept private in locked briefcases, cabinets, and password and firewall protected computers. After this document we will only use a code assigned to your household and each member of your household on each document.
